

TEXTILES

WWD.com/textiles

Out and About in Manhattan

By ROSEMARY FEITELBERG

SUMMERING IN the city doesn't have to mean spending hours in air-conditioned captivity. From the Hudson River to the New York Botanical Garden, there are a bundle of events and outings in and around Manhattan this month that will offer a break and a blast of fresh air from the trade-show circuit. Here, a sampling of cultural, recreational and energy-boosting indulgences.

Dutch artist Rineke Dijkstra has a retrospective at the Guggenheim Museum.

Art Matters
In the Metropolitan Museum of Art's rooftop garden, visitors can catch Argentinean artist Tomás Saraceno's "Cloud Cities/Air Port City," a futuristic constellation of mirrored modules.

A few floors below, museumgoers can pass through Ellsworth Kelly's seldom-seen botanical prints. Just a couple of blocks north, Rineke Dijkstra's beach portraits and other photos and videos are on display at the Guggenheim Museum. The Dutch artist will be at the museum July 17 to talk shop. In the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed rotunda, patrons can listen to music from Earle Brown, John Cage and other Fifties composers while viewing works from the likes of Louise Bourgeois, Alexander Calder, Jackson Pollock and more in "Art of Another Kind: International Abstraction and the Guggenheim, 1949-1960."

Fans of the Austrian artist Heinrich Kuehn can find shows of his work at the Neue Galerie and at the Photographers' Gallery. On July 20, ill create photo ed as fine of Edward who met ir mote a nev

The Ne in the Ma plores the technology Richard H and Motio the first tir work from ies. Guests from the M from such Nauman, F

In the Dark
Performin time since will call Wednesda hot ticket "Mike Tys opens a July 31. in the Pa line out or at re the city, ets to s Woods." is set fo Botanica of Baud thermal baths in 50-degree to 102-degree waters. Many visitors opt for a long soak listening to the underwater sound system or combine their water treatment with a four-handed massage.

Visitors plunge into thermal baths at Aire Ancient Baths in TriBeCa.

Visitors plunge into thermal baths at Aire Ancient Baths in TriBeCa.

Skin care guru David Colbert is giving boosts of vitamin C via the Triad facial that combines a microderm scrub, peel and laser toning. Another specialist, Adam Kolker, customizes facials with an array of masks and peels in his Upper East Side enclave. Those looking for a swifter summer pick-me-up should make their way to Sharon Dorram Color at Sally Hershberger. Seven minutes is all makeup-artist-turned-brow-expert Robyn Cosio needs to create model-worthy eyebrows. Having handled backstage makeup for Donna Karan and Calvin Klein, Cosio sends each client home with a photo so they can do their own upkeep. The bicoastal Cosio, whose celebrity clients included Kate Bosworth and Nicole Kidman, will be in New York from July 16 to 20. Cosio said, "It's instant gratification or, as my book publisher said, 'A five minute facelift.'"

102-degree a long soak ound system ment with a bert is giv- e Triad fa- erm scrub, er special- facials with n his Upper oking for a ould make m Color at nutes is all pport Robyn worthy eye- age makeup Klein, Cosio a photo so The bicoast- ts included man, will be Cosio said, as my book acelift."

es up cock- he Chrysler le Building. aza in the lier André Mullen to southern ing cooked -fired oven new haunt orts a rum- libations as In between me pool in nt to be the ames Bond ing would r newcom- bbon Sushi Orchard White's piz- 160 Second cious at 249 or dinner, homemade ice cream can be had at Je & Jo in Hell's Kitchen or via the company's roaming tricycle vendors. Owners Jennifer Welser and Jonathan Baker zest the lemon, scrape the vanilla beans, crush the lavender and all the rest for each of their organic cookie dough flavors. All Je & Jo baked goods are made on the premises, as is the Grumpy coffee, but most customers lean toward the higher caloric. "Our morning muffin is the healthiest thing we make, but no one wants that," Welser said.

Inside Kingston Hall in the East Village.

The Paris Opera Ballet will be performing in New York this month for the first time since 1996. Here, dancers in "Giselle."

Tomás Saraceno's "Cloud Cities" is now up at the Met.

apparelsourcing

July 24 - 26, 2012
Javits Convention Center
New York, NY

Relax, Refresh, Reboot

In honor of Bastille Day, the Guerlain Spa at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel is offering French manicures, a Tour de France sports massage and an Orchidée Impériale facial. Relief from the heat can be found at the TriBeCa Spa of Tranquility, where cryotherapy massage aims to increase blood flow and loosen the kinks. A few blocks away, the newly opened Aire Ancient Baths offer

New York's apparel sourcing event focused on the production supply chain for Contract Manufacturing, Private Label and ODM - Original Design Manufacturing

Register Online Now!
apparelsourcingshow.com/AWWD2

Co-located with

TEXWORLD USA hometextiles sourcing

messe frankfurt

Relax, Refresh, Reboot

In honor of Bastille Day, the Guerlain Spa at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel is offering French manicures, a Tour de France sports massage and an Orchidée Impériale facial. Relief from the heat can be found at the TriBeCa Spa of Tranquility, where cryotherapy massage aims to increase blood flow and loosen the kinks. A few blocks away, the newly opened Aire Ancient Baths offer